

THE FINNISH MARKET REVIEW.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The same favourable trend of the money market in Finland that had characterised the conditions since December last, was apparent in April and the first weeks in May. Various circumstances contributed to this, the principal ones being lively lumber work and improved conditions on the timber market, greater activity in some branches of production, a rather favourable trade balance and increased confidence in the Finnish mark and in the economic strength of the country in general. Quite a number of large industrial companies were able to record better results for last year than for 1931. There are, of course, still many difficulties to overcome - the weakest points seem to be the real estate market and farmers' indebtedness - and in the final resort an improvement in Finnish trade is dependent mainly on business conditions in the world market.

Deposits in the Joint Stock banks that have increased month by month, grew in April by 47.8 million marks in comparison with a reduction of 41.3 millions last year. Now that the banks have been able to regulate the greater part of their weak credits, they have again been in the position to grant fresh loans. The increase in their credits amounted to 26.7 million marks in April. The tension between the credits and deposits of the banks, which still amounted to $1,063.9$ million marks at the end of last year, has thus fallen off to only 681.9 millions. The cash of the Joint Stock banks increased in April, while at the same time their bills re-discounted at the Bank of Finland were reduced.

In the position of the Joint Stock banks towards other countries there was a slight increase in indebtedness and a reduction of balances. By this means their net foreign credit balances fell off by 17.8 million marks to 10.0 millions. For the sake of comparison it may be mentioned that at the end of April last year the Joint Stock banks had net balances amounting to 25.6 million marks, but a year before a net indebtedness of 168.6 millions.

The greatest change in the position of the Bank of Finland consisted of the reduction in re-discounted bills by 33.7 million marks to 61.8 millions, the lowest figure that has occurred since July, 1931. At the end of April, 1932, re-discounted bills amounted to 145.6 million marks. The direct credits of the Bank grew slightly in April, but its total credits were reduced by 31.3 million marks and consequently amounted to 962.8 million marks compared with 945.1 millions one year and 756.3 millions two years earlier. The Bank of Finland's reserve of foreign currency remained more or less. unchanged; the reduction for April was 1.3 million marks, so that at the end of April the reserve of foreign currency amounted to 771.e million marks against 598.0 millions a year ago. The note reserve rose by 39.2 million marks to 652.0 millions compared with 614.4 millions a year before. By this means the ordinary cover rose again to 68.5 per cent of all liabilities payable on demand, whereas the corresponding ratio was no more than 55.2 per cent at the end of last year.

During the first fortnight in May the Bank of Finland's reserve of foreign currency increased by 5.9 million marks, while foreign bills rose by 27.0 millions and the gold reserve increased by 4.4 millions. Simultaneously the re-discounted bills reached a fresh minimum for this year at 47.1 million marks - the reduction during this fortnight amounted to 14.7 millions - while the total credits of the Bank fell off by 28.8 millions. The note reserve dropped by 37.1 million marks, chiefly owing to part of the profit for 1932 having been transferred to the current account of the Government.

The favourable development of the money market is also seen in the following figures that illustrate the increase or reduction of deposits during January-April (March) in the:

| $\begin{gathered} \text { Increase ( }+ \text { () or decrease ( }- \text { ). } \\ \text { Mill. mks. } \\ 1932 \end{gathered}$ |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |
| Savings banks | $+69.4$ | - 7.9 |
| Cooperative Credit Societies | + 20.4 | +13.9 |
| Consumers' Cooperative So cieties' Savings Accounts | + 8.3 |  |

The level of prices displayed a slight tendency to fall in April. The wholesale price index dropped 1 point to 88 compared with 89 in April, 1932, and 85 for the same month in 1931. The cost of living index also dropped 2 points to 994 in comparison with 1,028 a year ago.

TRADE AND INDUSTRY.

Foreign trade was of about the same extent in April as it had been in March. The value of imports amounted to 257.1 million marks against 255.1 millions in the previous month and 222.7 millions in April, 1932. The value of exports amounted to 254.6 million marks compared with 257.9 millions in March and 290.9 millions in April, 1932. The balance of trade resulted in a surplus of imports amounting to 2.5 million marks and was thus less favourable than in April, 1932, when there was a quite unusual surplus of exports of 68.2 millions, but in comparison with the balance of trade for April in any other year the figure for the current year is quite satisfactory.

During the first four months the value of imports totalled 919.6 million marks in comparison with 729.1 millions last year, when imports kept exceptionally low for special reasons, and compared with 933.8 millions during the same months in 1931. The value of exports amounted to $1,039.6$ million marks against $1,090.7$ and 930.5 millions in the previous years. This year, therefore, the value of exports in these months exceeded the value of imports by 120.0 million marks. For the same period last year the surplus of exports was considerably larger or 361.6 million marks, but as a rule the early part of the year provides a considerable surplus of imports in Finland.

The state of the timber market is appreciably sounder than a year ago, prices are firm and sales are very lively. About 75,000 standards of sawn goods were sold from Finland in April according to calculations and a further 55,000 stds. during the first fortnight in May, so that the total quantity sold is estimated at about 530,000 stds. compared with about 280,000 stds. at the same date last year.

THE LABOUR MARKET.

The improvement in the state of the labour market continued in April. The number of unemployed dropped from 64,300 to 53,386 at the end of April. In comparison with last year the number of unemployed has been reduced by 29.3 per cent, which clearly shows the degree of improvement.

The index is calculated by the Research Office of the Ministry for Social Aifairs according to monthly reports from $\mathbf{3 0}$ different centres. It is based on the cost of living for the first half of $1914=100$ and refers to the normal budget of a workman's family. The index for the total cost of living is the average of the weighted group indices.

The index is calculated by the Central Statistical Office, and is based on the average prices for 1926= 100. The first group of indices is based on the quantity of goods in local wholesale trade in Finland, whereas the indices for imported and exported goods are based on the total quantities of goods imported or exported, including the movement of such goods that are in no way intended for wholesale trade in Finland. An indirect weighting has been applied, by means of which each class of goods is represented by the number of commodities corresponding to the calculated importance of this class in wholesale trade. The averages are arithmetical ones.

FINNISH STATE FINANCES IN 1932.

BYA. E. TUDEER, pH. D.STATISTICIAN TO THE BANK OF RINLAND.

GENERAL REVIEW.

The continued depression left its mark on the State finances of Finland in 1932. There was a continuance of the tendency that had set in since 1930 for the most important sources of revenue to yield less, which necessitated the greatest economy in expenditure.

Before reviewing the revenue and expenditure of the State for 1932 we must, however, point out that the data for that year cannot be compared directly with the corresponding figures for the previous year owing to the fact that the principles of. accountancy have been altered in some respects (see Bulletin No. 9, 1931). It should be mentioned principally that while all revenue and expenditure was formerly given in gross figures, the net figures are now given for the business undertakings of the State. Some of these undertakings were, besides, converted into limited liability companies in the course of 1932, so that the sums appearing in the accounts are considerably reduced. For this reason the total revenue and expenditure are over 1,000 million marks less than in former years. It should also be stated that the former division of the State revenue and expenditure into ordinary and extraordinary revenue and expenditure has now been replaced by a division into current and capital revenue and expenditure. The new capital revenue and expenditure were mostly included in the former extraordinary revenue and expenditure, but the latter included, in addition, some nonrecurring revenue and expenditure that now figures among the current items. Among other alterations we should mention that quite a number of transfers have been made from one section to another in the revenue, as well as a few from one main group to another in the expenditure.

On account of these changes it is impossible to obtain exact comparisons with previous years. However, in order to secure some points of comparison the finance accounts for 1931 have been drawn up afresh on the same principles on which the accounts for 1932 are based. It proved impossible, however, to obtain entirely commensurable figures, because the accounts for 1932 include, for instance, in the case of the business undertakings of the State interest on working capital and amounts written off on establishments, whereas such purely bookkeeping entries do not exist for former years. Below we give the main figures in the State finance accounts for 1931 and 1932 with the reservation necessitated by these circumstances.

Before comparing the revenue and expenditure on the basis of this table and seeing, how the accounts. were balanced, it is appropriate to review the expenditure and revenue separately.

EXPENDITURE.

In the actual Budget for 1932 the State expenditure was estimated at $2,855.6$ million marks, of which $2,340.9$ millions were current expenditure and 514.7 millions capital expenditure. In the course of the year considerable fresh appropriations were granted, principally for dealing with unemployment. By this means the estimated expenditure amounted to $3,227.4$ million marks. Actually, however, only a small part of these unemployment grants were utilised during the year, the greater part being carried over to 1933. According to the finance accounts the expenditure totalled $3,001.7$ million marks, as is shown in table I.

In comparison with the year before the total expenditure was reduced by 76.2 millions. This was due, however, to the declining capital expenditure, which fell off by 140.0 millions owing to measures of economy, while the current expenditure increased, in spite of all endeavours, by 63.8 millions. As already stated, however, these figures are not entirely comparable.

If we extend the comparison to a longer period, we find it possible to do so owing to the fact that the gross revenue and expenditure of the business undertakings is given in the accounts in a separate column. But in this case we must content ourselves with totals.

|  | Gross expenditure of the State. Mill. mks. |
| :---: | :---: |
| 1932 | 4,147.2 |
| 1931 | 4,245.6 |
| 1930 | . 4,738.7 |
| 1929 | . 4,508.1 |
| 1928 | 5,041.6 |
| 1927 | 3,988.5 |

The amount of expenditure in 1928 was due to a large loan having been negotiated in that year, the proceeds being included in the extraordinary expenditure. The forced reduction of State expenditure occasioned by the depression is clearest, if we compare the expenditure in 1.930 and 1932. The reduction amounted to 591.5 million marks or 12.5 per cent. If it is considered that some items of expenditure grow automatically, the curtailment of other items is all the greater.

Table II below shows the distribution of State expenditure, and how it was possible to effect economies in the various main groups. It will be seen that the largest items consist of expenditure for education, defence and home affairs as well as of the National Debt service. The only item that has increased to a great extent since 1931 is the last, viz., interest and expenditure on the National Debt, which has soared upwards on account of the rise in the rates of exchange since October, 1931. In other respects the expenditure has, as a rule, been reduced more or less.

With regard to other aspects of expenditure, the business undertakings of the State are dealt with later and here we will merely quote a few figures concerning the capital expenditure. These are divided into two main groups: investments of capital that are expected to provide revenue for the State; and such capital expenditure as is not expected to provide any direct revenue for the State.

The former consists of three sections. The first place is occupied by investments in the business undertakings of the State, forests and other real estate, altogether 136.0 million marks of which the principal item is made up of investments in the State railways, amounting to 109.9 million marks, smaller sums having been invested in post and telegraph lines, construction of locks and so on. The second section consists of loans for various purposes, chiefly for promoting agriculture, to a total of 35.4 million marks. The third section consists of redemption of the National Debt, altogether 58.2 million marks.

The capital expenditure that is not expected to increase State revenue, is formed of the following main sections: primary investments, 104.1 million marks; new constructions, 23.3 millions; and various public works, 160.2 millions. The first section refers chiefly to supplementing the materials necessary for defence, while the most important items in the third section consist of expenditure on roads and on reducing unemployment. With regard to the latter item the expenditure in organising relief work amounted to 103.8 million marks and in organising special public works to 30.0 millions.

REVENUE.

In drawing up the Budget for 1932 the State revenue was estimated at $2,857.7$ million marks, of which $2,588.5$ millions represented current revenue and 269.2 millions capital revenue, including a loan of 60.0 million marks. However, in the course of the first few months it became evident that the revenue under some heads, e.g., the important item of import duties, had been estimated at too high a figure. On the other hand the abolition of the law of prohibition provided some fresh opportunities of revenue, in duty on imported alcoholic beverages, in excise on the manufacture of spirits and native wines and in a share in the profits of the new company that has the monopoly of trade in alcoholic beverages. The depression reacted on the business of the State to such an extent, however, that the current State revenue did not amount to more than 2,438.2 million marks, i.e., they were about 150 millions less than expected. At the same time the capital revenue increased by 154.5 million marks by the issue of two small internal loans and therefore amounted to 486.9 millions. The total revenue thus amounted to $2,925.1$ million marks.

As shown by the figures given in table III below, where the revenue is divided into six main groups, the current State revenue in 1932 was 303.9 million marks or 11.1 per cent less than in the previous year. The capital revenue, on the contrary, exceeded the corresponding amount for 1931 by 421.6 millions, so that the total revenue last year was 119.7 million marks larger than during the year before.

It is worth while examining the most important items given in this table more closely. If the current revenue is divided into three main categories, the following compilation is obtained. For the sake of clearness we have deducted the losses of such undertakings, on which there was a loss, from the profits of the business undertakings, although such losses are included in the expenditure in the accounts. For this reason the total figures of revenue differ slightly from the amounts in the accounts quoted above.

The greater part of the revenue, 78.7 per cent in 1932, was derived from taxes of different kinds. The net revenue from the State undertakings, which provided considerable sums under good business conditions, has fallen off very much and only represents 3.5 per cent of the total current revenue. "Other revenue" has also decreased slightly; its share in the total revenue amounted to 17.8 per cent in 1932.

STATE UNDERTAKINGS.

Although the net revenue from the business undertakings of the State has been very small in recent years, they nevertheless represent a fairly large turnover. Their gross revenue last year amounted to $1,229.4$ million marks, while their net expenditure totalled $1,145.5$ millions. The surplus or net revenue was therefore 83.9 million marks. Actually most of the undertakings earned a profit of 104.3 millions altogether, while a few suffered a total loss of 20.4 millions. This is seen in greater detail in the following table.

In regard to the individual undertakings it should be noted that in the course of 1932 the Imatra Power Station, the Outokumpu Copper Mine, the Spirit Monopoly and the Veitsiluoto Woodworking Mills were converted into limited liability companies, so that the figures for them only refer to part of the year. It should also be taken into consideration that amounts written off were taken into account only for the railways in 1931, and that no interest was calculated on the capital invested in the establishment and in the running of the works; whereas both amounts' written off on establishments and interest on the working capital were calculated for 1932. These circumstances explain the poorer results for 1932 to a great extent, besides which they were affected by the bad business conditions.

REVENUE FROM TAXATION.

The revenue of the State from taxation was divided into main groups as shown in table VI below.

| Total | 598 | 557 |

Incomparably the most important item among the direct taxes consists of the income and property tax that yielded 437.9 million marks in 1932.

The most important indirect taxes are illustrated in the following table.

Table VII. INDIRECT TAXATIOX.

| Spirits and native wines | 1 | - | 8.2 | 0.4 |
| Total | 1348.6 | 66.3 | 1238.2 | 65.0 |

All these forms of revenue have fallen off cn account of the reduced purchasing power caused by the depression. The excise on the brewing of beer alone provided a larger yield, as it had not been in force during the whole of 1931 ; the excise on spirits and native wines was introduced last year, when prohibition was abolished.

It is interesting to see, which imported goods form the most important sources of import duty. This is shown in table VIII illustrating Customs revenue according to classes of goods.

Table VIII. CUSTOMS REVENUE.

| Other commodities .. | 390.6 | 214.7 |
| Grand total | 1127.7 | 1020.7 |

In general these figures indicate a falling tendency, in some cases a very pronounced one, owing to reduced quantities of imports, which were, however, counteracted to some extent by higher rates of duty. There is only a large increase in "Other cereals", which was due to greatly increased imports of rye. The reduction in the Customs revenue derived from "Other commodities" was, however, striking.

BALANOING THE ACCOUNTS.

As we have shown above, the current revenue amounted to $2,438.2$ million marks, while the total current expenditure was $2,484.6$ millions. The latter thus exceeded the former by 46.4 million marks. This unsatisfactory result is a consequence of the depression; in former years the accounts have always recorded a considerable surplus of current revenue. The surplus for 1931 was 321.3 million marks.

In addition to the current expenditure the accounts contain capital expenditure amounting to 517.1 million marks, the nature of which has been explained above. On the other hand, an amount of 486.9 millions is included among revenue as capital revenue. Of this 214.6 millions were received by means of internal loans. Further, capital revenue included 130.2 millions in amortisation on or redemption of loans granted earlier by the Treasury, 75.1 millions written off on the establishment of State undertakings and 45.7 millions by the sale of industrial shares and other State property.

In spite of the issue of the above mentioned loans the total revenue fell short of the expenditure by 76.6 million marks. Of this sum 42.1 millions were covered out of the cash balance of former, more favourable years, by which means this item that had been utilised for many years in balancing the Budget, was exhausted. The finance accounts of the State thus wound up with a deficit of 34.5 million marks, which has been carried over to the Budget for the current year.

It cannot be denied that the finance accounts for 1932 owing to the depression and the obligations that the alleviation of its consequences imposed on the State, proved less satisfactory than for any year since the State finances were put in order after the Great War. However, in comparison with the financial results in many other countries, the Finnish finance accounts described above are rather favourable. In any case the Government has resolved to find new ways of reducing State expenditure and of balancing the State finances.

ITEMS.

The Diet. On May bth the regular spring session of the Diet was closed. Thus the three years' term of the Diet elected in the summer of 1930 came to an end and there will be fresh elections in the beginning of July that will decide the composition of the Diet, which is to assemble in September.

The Diet that has now completed its work, had principally to overcome the consequences of the depression in various spheres, by no means least in the sphere of the State finances. Among other important results of its work we should mention the abolition of the law of prohibition and the introduction of new liquor legislation, the reorganisation of the Army and the passing of the Bank Law, the Savings Bank Law and the Law regarding Bills, etc.

The harvest in 1932. The Board of Agriculture has now completed its calculations of the quantity and value of the harvest in 1932. According to these the harvest was larger than in any previous year in quantity, it being estimated at about 3,200 million fodder units against 3,100 millions in 1931, 3,070 millions in 1930 and 2,550 millions in 1929. This increase was partly due to the cultivated area having increased by $49,000 \mathrm{ha}$. to $2,333,000 \mathrm{ha}$. The increase in the area under wheat was comparatively largest, viz., about 30 per cent, but the cultivated area for other plants was also increased.

The quantity of the crops of the most important plants was as follows:

|  | $1932 .$  Tons. | 1981. Tons. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Wheat | 40,400 | 30,500 |
| Rye | 329,400 | 315,200 |
| Barley | 178,900 | 165,600 |
| Oats | 669,500 | 669,700 |
| Mixed conn | 23,000 | 22,200 |
| Potatoes | 983,400 | 977,900 |
| Fodder plants | 754,100 | 743,600 |
| Field hay | 3,016,200 | 2,904,300 |
| Meadow hay | 304,200 | 298,800 |

The crops of wheat, barley, oats, mixed corn, potatoes and field hay were larger than in any previous year.

Calculated in money the harvest is estimated to represent a value of approximately 5,000 million marks in comparison with $4,800,4,700$ and 4,300 millions for the preceding years.

Annual results of commerce and industry. "Finansbladet" has tabulated the annual results of the balance sheets of 60 companies for 1932 and 1931, and has obtained the following results:

The total net profits of these companies have consequently increased by 61.2 per cent. It should also be stated that in 1931 fourteen of these companies suffered losses, but their number was reduced last year to three.

New papermill machinery. Yhtyneet Paperitehtaat $O y$. have, in accordance with a scheme begun in 1926 for rebuilding and extending the mills at Myllykoski, of which the construction of the new mechanical pulpmill and power station had been carried out earlier, purchased a new papermaking machine, for which a new building of over 200 metres in length has been erected. The working breadth of the machine is 213 inches or 541 cm . and all the newest inventions were observed at the installation. The capacity of the new machine is estimated to be $36,000-40,000$ tons a year.

Ab. Walkiakoski have started their fourth papermaking machine running, a machine of a working breadth of 170 inches and a cylinder diameter of $4,200 \mathrm{~mm}$. This machine produces $6,000-7,000$ tons of kraftpaper annually. In order to derive full benefit from this machine a number of extensions have also been made in other departments of the mill.

Year Book of the Bank of Finland. The thirteenth volume of the Year Book of the Bank of Finland has been published in Finnish and Swedish and the English edition will be ready very shortly. The Year Book, which is arranged on the same plan as former issues, contains, in addition to the tables, a review of the economic position in Finland, and of the business of the Bank of Finland. The English edition includes, in addition, a short description of the business of the Joint Stock banks during the year under review. - The Statistical Department of the Bank of Finland publishes this Year Book and supplies it free of charge to anyone wishing to receive it.

Banking Statistics. The Bank Inspectorate's Report on banks and banking in Finland during 1932 was published in the middle of May. The Report is in Finnish and Swedish and contains information about the Joint Stock banks, Mortgage institutions and the Bank of Finland. A review of the business of the Joint Stock banks in accordance with the Report mentioned was inserted in the form of an article in the April issue of this Bulletin. - Orders from abroad should be addressed to the Statistical Department of the Bank of Finland.

THE BANK OF FINLAND  MONTHLY BULLETIN

is sent free of charge to anyone wishing to receive it. Finnish booksellers are, however. allowed to sell it at a price of 2 marks per copy. Back numbers are also willingly supplied. Should extracts from the Bulletin be printed, the source should be stated.
