THE FINNISH MARKET REVIEW.

THE MONEY MARKET.
In January and the beginning of February the weak tone apparent in Finland's big markets abroad affected business in this country to some extent, but so far, however, the repercussions felt were of a rather limited nature. Whereas, for instance, the Finnish Stock Exchange has been markedly dull for the last few weeks, the development in our money market has only been characterised by the usual seasonal phenomena.

Thus, the influx of deposits into the Joint Stock banks was very lively in January. Time deposits due to the public increased by 107.4 million marks to $6,980.3$ millions at the end of the month under review; last year the corresponding increase was 73.7 millions. All deposits due both to the public and to other credit institutions grew, too, and amounted to 10,147.6 million marks on January 31st, 1938, as against $10,030.2$ millions one month and 8,768.7 millions one year earlier. According to the seasonal rule the demand for credits was also brisk during the month under review. Among the credits granted the amount of inland bills increased by 119.2 milmon marks. Seeing that other credits increased as well, the increase in all the credits granted was 133.7 million marks or almost the same as in January, 1937, when they rose by 132.4 million marks. The amount of credits granted this year totalled 8,742.3 million marks at the end of January as compared to $7,505.2$ million marks at the corresponding date last year. The margin of deposits over credits still kept above 1,400 million marks, but as the Joint Stock banks increased their portfolio of bonds and other assets, their cash account decreased from the peak of $1,316.9$ million marks to 1,034 . 4 million marks during January.

It is usual for the foreign payment position of the Joint Stock banks to improve in January. This year the increase in their net credit balances held abroad amounted to 116.2 million marks as against an increase of 11.9 millions last year and 109.7 million marks two years ago. At the end of the month the foreign accounts of the Joint Stock banks, however, did not show quite as large net credit balances this year as in 1937 and 1936, these amounts being 208.5, 321.3 and 291.6 million marks respectively.

The Bank of Finland's credit balances with its foreign correspondents, on the other hand, were at the end of January, 1938, more than 500 million marks larger than a year and fully 880 millions larger than two years earlier. At an amount of $2,169.7$ million marks on the last day of the month under review, they had risen by 113.5 millions since the end of last year. Seeing, however, that the Banks' liabilities payable on demand had risen still more, viz.: by 156.7 million marks, the note reserve declined in January by 43.3 millions to 425.0 million marks as against 448.9 million marks at the end of the corresponding month in 1937. The rise in the liabilities payable on demand was wholly due to a heavy increase in the balance kept by the Treasury on current account in the Bank of Finland. The amount of this balance rose by 335.3 million marks, whereas both the current accounts due to others than the Treasury and the notes outstanding decreased in January, the former by 144.5 and the latter by 36.t million marks. At 2,015.1 million marks on January 31st, the note circulation was, nevertheless, still on a level exceeding the corresponding one for last year by more than 400 million marks. - The changes in the statements of the Bank of Finland for the first two weeks in February proceeded in the same direction on the whole as during January. It may be mentioned that the credits granted by the Bank which always display a rise at the beginning of the year, showed an increase from $1,156.8$ millions at the end of January to 1,286. $\boldsymbol{\tau}$ million marks by the middle of February, the corresponding figures last year being 976.0 and $1,008.0$ million marks respectively.

After the rapid rise and fall of prices during last year, the starting point for the price movements of several groups of articles was about the same in January, 1938, as in 1937. The expected tendency is, however, quite the reverse: last year prices were clearly on the rise, whereas their trend now is either uncertain or falling. The level of prices, as expressed by our principal series of indices, is nevertheless on the whole still above the corresponding level of last year. The price index for Finnish articles of import $(1926=100)$ was 103 in January or exactly the same as a year earlier, it is true, but the index for our articles of export recorded 112 as against 105 and the wholesale price index 102 as compared to 98. The total price index for articles of consumption (July $1931=100$ ) which is most likely to be influenced by the growing puchasing power within the country, was at 107.7 in January 6.4 points higher than twelve months earlier.

TRADE AND INDDUSTRY.

Both in volume and value imports were unusually lively in January. At 686.3 million marks they surpassed the corresponding value last year by 33 per cent, whereas their volume was estimated to be 27 per cent larger than in January, 1937. Seeing that exports which amounted to 522.2 million marks kept closer to last year's figures in both respects, it is evident that the surplus of imports arising this year in January was considerably higher than last year. In fact it amounted to 164.1 million marks as against a corresponding surplus of imports of 30.8 millions in 1937 and 24.2 millions in 1936. During the initial months of the year the balance of trade as a rule moves against this country, as the actual export season only begins with the summer months, but this year imports of wheat, coffee and sugar, the customs duties of which had been lowered at the beginning of this year and which had been deliberately postponed from last year, considerably influenced our foreign trade in January.

The markets for our principal woodworking products have been quiet of late. This has. prompted the Northern producers of kraftpaper and greaseproof to curtail their output by 20 and 15 per cent respectively. The Finnish sawmill owners have ratified the agreement of the European Timber Exporters' Convention in regard to a reduction of the export quota of sawn timber for 1938 that was reported in our last review. Under this agreement the Finnish quota has been reduced to 859,275 standards of sawn timber for the current year.

THE LABOUR MARKET.

No changes worth mentioning have occurred in the labour market, the state of which remains satisfactory.

${ }^{1}$ ) According to data supplied by the Treasury. Internal loans are given at their nominal value and foreign loans in Finnish currency according to the rates ruling on the dates of the issue of the loans. - ${ }^{2}$ ) Calculated as follows: the outstanding amounts of both internal and foreign loans have been converted into Swiss Francs at the monthly average rates of exchange of the respective currencies. From September, 1936, the amounts have been converted into Swiss Francs of former gold value in order to ellininate the influence of fluctuating currencles.

Calculated by the Central Statistical Office. The first group of indices refers to prices of goods appearing in local wholesale trade in Finland, whereas the indices for imported and exported goods refer to forejgn trade prices. An indirect weighting has been applied. each class of goods being represented by the number of commodities corresponding to the calculated importance of this class in wholesale trade. The averages are arithmetiral ones.

FOREIGN TRADE IN 1937.

BY VERNER LINDGREN, M.A.
head of the statistical department of the board of custoals.

GENERAL SURVEY.
From the economic point of view 1937 was a very good year for Finland. Production was larger than ever before, the supply of money was plentiful and the purchasing power of the country increased The favourable economic situation is reflected, too, in the figures for foreign trade which record a marked increase in general. The volume of foreign trade developed as follows:-

| VOLUME INDEX OF FOREIGNTRADE$1926=100$ |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Year | Imports | Exports | Total |
| 1931 | 91 | 108 | 96 |
| 1932 | 79 | 114 | 92 |
| 1933 | 93 | 131 | 112 |
| 1934 | 115 | 142 | 130 |
| 1935 | 124 | 150 | 138 |
| 1936 | . 146 | 171 | $10 ั 8$ |
| 1937 | 179 | 181 | 180 |

The advance during 1937 was remarkably large, about 15 per cent. In the case of exports it was less, only about 6 per cent of the volume for 1936, but in the case of imports the increase in volume was nearly 23 per cent. The extent of the total foreign trade in 1937 was almost twice as large as during the depression in 1932.

The course of the value of foreign trade proceeded as follows:-

| Year | value of foreign trade |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Imports c. i. f. | Exports  f. o. b.  Million | $\begin{gathered} \text { Total } \\ \text { marks } \end{gathered}$ | Surplus of exports |

| 1937 | 9,277 | 9,368 | 18,645 | 91 |

The value of foreign trade thus increased very greatly, altogether by over 5,000 million marks, exports growing by about 30 per cent and imports by about 45 per cent. Owing to the proportionately much larger increase of imports, exports and imports. balanced more evenly in 1937 than in the previous years. The surplus of exports only represented 91 million marks last year or, if imports of gold bullion are left out of account, 234 millions.

The diminished surplus of exports need cause no apprehension as regards the balance of payments, as the latter includes, in addition to the surplus of exports, positive items amounting to several hundred million marks in all. Besides, the decrease in the surplus of exports is a natural phenomenon. The preceding seven years had provided Finland with a total surplus of exports of close on 7,000 million marks. With this amount the whole of Finland's net shortterm debt and a large part of the redeemable long-term foreign debt had been paid off. It is intelligible that the continued growth of exports was bound under such circumstances to lead to an increased importation of capital goods and other durable goods, and in 1937 imports of such goods were fully 1,400 millions larger than in 1936.

TIMPORTS.

Imports in 1937 were, in round figures, 2,900 million marks in excess of the imports in 1936; of this amount about 1,700 millions refer to the increase in volume and about 1,200 millions to the rise in prices. The increase may appear unexpectedly large, but it is due, as already indicated, principally to the fact that it includes considerable imports of capital goods. Imports of actual goods for consumption, on the other hand, did not develop to any particular extent.

| Year | IMPORTS OF GOODS FOR CONSUMPTION |  |  |  |  |

|  | Million marks |  |  |  | \% |
| 1933 | 849 | 602 | 1,508 | 2,959 | 75 |
| 1934 | 834 | 674 | 1,850 | 3,358 | 70 |

| 1937 | 1,176 | 1,305 | 3,208 | 5,689 | 61 |

At the same time imports of capital and other durable goods increased to a striking extent as the following figures indicate.

If the value of the exports of the corresponding classes of goods is deducted from the total imports as above, a figure representing the net imports of capital and other durable goods which can be looked upon as a form of importation of capital into this country - is arrived at. In order to illustrate the national benefit from foreign trade the surplus of exports figuring in the balance of trade has been added to these net imports of capital and other durable goods and the series of figures obtained are shown in the following table:-

| Year | Capital and other durable goods in foreign trade |  |  | Surplusof exports | Total |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Imports | Export | t imports |  |  |
|  | Million marks |  |  |  |  |
| 1933 | 969 | 103 | 8:66 | 1,370 | 2,236 |
| 1934 | 1,418 | 137 | 1,281 | 1,450 | 2,731 |
| 1935 | 1,797 | 147 | 1,650 | 896 | 2,546 |
| 1936 | 2,177 | 275 | 1,902 | 854 | 2,756 |
| 1937 | 3,589 | 331 | 3,258 | 91 | 3,349 |

Thus very considerable amounts have been brought into Finland during the last few years by means of foreign trade either as a direct surplus of payments or in the form of machinery, means of transport, durable raw materials, objects of value etc.

EXPORTS.

Exports in 1937 were, in round figures, 2,100 million marks in excess of the exports in 1936; of this only about 400 millions refer to the increase in volume and about 1,700 millions to the rise in prices. The principal classes of exported articles record the following values:-

value of exports

| Year | Timber | $\begin{aligned} & \text { Paper and } \\ & \text { pulp } \\ & \text { Million } \end{aligned}$ | $\begin{aligned} & \begin{array}{l} \text { Animal } \\ \text { foodstuffts } \\ \text { marks } \end{array} \end{aligned}$ | Other goods |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 1933 | 2,270 | 2,108 | 478 | 441 |
| 1934 | 3,020. | 2,278 | 399 | 529 |
| 1935 | 2,696 | 2,516 | 454 | 574 |
| 1936 | 3,037 | 2,900 | 538 | 747 |
| 1937 | 4,157 | 3,630 | 612 | 969 |

Exports of timber were approximately as large in volume in 1937 as in the previous year, but prices were appreciably more favourable. As before, sawn timber was exported principally, but also large quantities of pitprops, pulpwood, and other unmanufactured timber, besides plywood, bobbins and - to a growing extent various kinds of wooden articles, particularly furniture. In 1937 timber represented close on 45 per cent of the total value of exports. Paper and pulp products represented about 40 per cent of the total value. This class of exports also expanded very much in 1937 and prices, too, were favourable.

Exports of animal foodstuffs only increased slightly, but on the other hand some industries that had previously confined themselves almost entirely to the home market, were able to increase their sales abroad appreciably.

TRA:DE WITH JNDIVIDUUAL COUNTRIES.

The distribution of trade according to individual countries experienced no great change during 1937. Foreign trade increased in various directions, but Great Britain occupied the same predominating position in Finland's foreign trade as in the previous years. Imports of British goods increased by 527 million marks to 1,762 millions, of German goods by 498 to 1,528 millions, of Swedish goods by 275 to 984 millions, of goods from the United States by 258 to 863 millions, of Belgian goods by 227 to 512 millions and of Danish goods by 127 to 349 millions. - Sales to Britain increased by 723 million marks to $\mathbf{4 , 1 8 5}$ millions, to Germany by 509 to 1,224 millions, to the United States by 73 to 740 millions, to Sweden by 71 to 463 millions, to France by 148 to 451 millions and to Belgium by 55 to 423 millions.

FUTUURE PROSPECTS.
The prospects for the development of foreign trade appear favourable on the whole. The cellulose industry in particular, but also the mechanical woodpulp and paper industries have adapted themselves to a further increase in production. The output has been contracted for for a long time ahead at prices considerably above last year's level. In the case of the sawmilling industry the position is not so satisfactory. Slightly reduced output must be expected and lower prices than in 1937. Yet it is scarcely likely that exports in general in 1938 will be less than in 1937. As regards imports, the increased purchasing power in the country should stimulate imports of articles for consumption. But it seems uncertain whether exports will be balanced by such heavy imports of capital goods as in 1937 or whether a surplus of exports will arise again. It is probable, however, that investment activity will soon fall off and that the proceeds of exports will not be employed in the same measure as in 1937 for importing capital and other durable goords.

ITEMS.

Finland's short-term foreign accounts. The data concerning Finland's short-term foreign indebtedness and credit balances regularly published by "Unitas", have now been calculated as on the last day of December, 1937.

As we have pointed out on previous occasions, the particulars are neither complete nor exact in all respects. yet on the whole they give a correct idea of the course of development of the short-term movements of capital between Finland and foreign countries. In order that the fluctuations in the rates of exchange should not interfere with the comparability of the amounts, by which the net position has altered, the amounts are given, as far as possible, in Finnish marks converted at the parity of exchange in 1925.

Whereas at the end of 1936 both the indebtedness and credit balances showed considerably higher figures than at the beginning of the year, the indebtedness did not change nearly as much as the credit balances during last year. Owing to the increase in imports the debts incurred for their payment were considerably larger at the end of 1937 than a year earlier, but other items among the short-term indebtedness decreased on the other hand and as an outcome the total indebtedness was only 37 million marks higher at the end of last year than twelve months earlier. The credit balances rose by no less than 511 million marks owing chiefly to the heavy increase in the Bank of Finland's balances with its foreign correspondents, but to some extent also to the larger assets that the Finnish State kept abroad. When judging the development of the net foreign credit balances, which increased from 900 million marks at the end of 1936 to 1,374 million marks at the end of 1937, it should, however, be remembered that during the year the Bank of Finland sold gold to a value of approximately 180 million marks by which amount the Bank's balances with its foreign correspondents consequently increased.

In 1937 as in the previous years a considerable redemption of long-term indebtedness also took place and this fact emphasises the improvement in the foreign payment position of this country that is illustrated by the development of Finland's short-term foreign accounts as given in the following table.

| End of year | Indebtedness Mill. mk | Credit balances Mill. mk | $\begin{gathered} \text { Net indebtedness }(-) \\ \text { or balance }(+) \\ \text { Mill. mix } \end{gathered}$ |

New issue of shares. In No. 12, 1936, of this Bulletin we reported on the establishment of a new branch of industry in Finland, when the Kuitu Oy. company for manufacturing artificial silk, artificial wool and cellophane was formed. The factory is at present under construction and as some extensions have been proposed, it has been decided to raise the original capital of the company by 30 million marks to 70 million marks. This will be done by issuing 30,000 new shares at their nominal value of 1,000 marks each.

Ice conditions. Owing to the plentiful fall of snow early this winter, the ice that formed along the Finnish coast both in the Gulf of Finland and in the Gulf of Bothnia never grew very thick and in consequence of favourable weather conditions in January and February the ice conditions were unusually easy by the middle of the latter month. The western part of the Gulf of Finland is quite free of ice and in the Gulf of Bothnia the port of Kaskinen (Kaskö) was reopened to navigation on February 20th. During the last few decades ice conditions have been as easy only in the winters of 1930 and 1925. The result of the favourable conditions for sea traffic this year has been that the Finnish icebreakers have so far had a fairly easy winter campaign.

Rearrangement of statistical tables. In the statistical section of this Bulletin some changes have been introduced starting with the present issue. In a number of tables the headings have been expressed in a modified and more accurate manner. In table 24 the series of figures showing the imports of bran have been amplified; they will henceforth include all kinds of bran as well as maize imported. In table 25 a similar modification has been introduced in regard to the series of figures illustrating the exports of cardboard; formerly only the principal kinds of cardboard were included under this heading, but since exports of special kinds of wallboard especially have increased, the exports of all kinds of cardboard are now taken into account. Finally in table 32 the series of figures have been rearranged in order to give a better survey of our foreign shipping.

THE BANK OF FINLAND MONTHLY BULLETIN

is sent free of charge to anyone wishing to receive it. Finnish booksellers are, however, allowed to sell it at a price of 2 marks per copy. Back numbers are also willingly supplied. Should extracts from the Bulletin be printed, the source should be stated. Correspondence with regard to the Bulletin should be addressed to the Bank of Finland, Statistical Department, Helsinki (Helsingfors), Finland.
