

BANK OF FINLAND Monthly Bulletin

THE FINNISH MARKET REVIEW.

THE MONEY MARKET.

In March and in the beginning of April the money market was characterised by a considerable extension of the volume of credit, as is usual at this time of the year. The accumulation of capital in Joint Stock banks, Savings banks and other savings institutions was also fairly large.

The credits granted by the Joint Stock banks to the public increased in March by 64.3 million marks compared with a reduction of 29.3 millions during the same month in 1934 and an increase of 21.1 millions in 1933. It should be noted in this connection that the figures for the latter years include credits to Finnish credit institutions which now appear as a separate item (see the second. article in this Bulletin, page 36). The latter credits increased in March by 40.6 millions. Deposits by the public increased by 122.2 million marks and deposits by Finnish credit institutions by 61.5 millions. The increase of the total home deposits in the Joint Stock banks amounted to 117.3 millions in March, 1934, and 102.1 millions in March, 1933. The tension between the Joint Stock banks' credits to and deposits from the public thus decreased in March by 57.9 million marks and amounted at the end of March to 388.0 millions. At the same time the banks had a surplus of deposits from other credit institutions of 679.2 million marks, so that the total home business resulted in a surplus of deposits of 291.2 millions compared with only 9.4 millions a year ago.

In consequence of the increase in home credits the Joint Stock banks drew on their foreign balances. These fell off in March by 184.6 million marks to 459.4 millions. As the foreign indebtedness of the banks did not experience any change, their net credit balances decreased by 184.4 million marks to 228.7 millions. For the sake of comparison we should mention that the corresponding net balances amounted to 107.2 millions a year ago and to 27.8 millious two years ago.

The position of the Bank of Finland bears clear traces of the seasonal demand for credit. Credits increased in March by 96.6 million marks and during the first fortnight in April by 14.3 millions and thus amounted to 874.9 million marks against 887.5 millions a year ago. After a temporary decrease in February the reserve of foreign currency grew again in March by 49.5 million marks and in the beginning of April by 33.6 millions to $1,350.8$ millions. A year ago the reserve of foreign currency amounted to $1,042.9$ million marks and two years ago only to 778.4 millions.

The note circulation rose in March by 70.0 millions and thus attained a level of $1,441.5$ million marks, i.e., one that has not occurred since 1930 and that indicates the increase in economic activity and the greater purchasing prower in the country. As usual, the note circulation reached its highest seasonal point at the end of March, after which it began to fall off; on April 15th the note circulation was $1,410.8$ millions.

The increase in deposits in the Savings banks and Savings societies during the .first quarter of this year merits attention. The increase amounted to the following sums:-

|  | January-March |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | $\stackrel{1935}{\text { Mill. mks }}$ | $1934$ |  |

| Consumers' ${ }^{\text {Co}}$-operative |  |  |  |
| Societies' Savings |  |  |  |
| accounts | $+26.2$ | $+23.0$ | + 8.5 |

The level of prices remained unchanged, on the whole, in March. The wholesale price index stood at 90, as it has done for most of the last three years, but the indices for imported and exported goods fell one point. The cost of living index dropped 5 points to 979 against 996 a year ago.

TRADE AND INDUSTRY.

Foreign trade was comparatively lively in March. The value of imports amounted to 383.1 million marks compared with 292.9 millions in February and 316.7 millions in March last year. The value of exports rose to 320.5 million marks from 290.4 millions in February and 279.9 millions in March, 1934. Thus there was a surplus of imports for March amounting to 62.6 million marks against 36.8 millions last year.

During the first quarter of the present year foreign trade has been fairly lively. Imports were 17 per cent larger than last year in volume and 150 per cent larger than in 1932, when they were at their lowest. The volume of exports rose 11 per cent above 1934 and 59 per cent above the lowest year, 1931. The value of imports during the first three months of the current year amounted to $1,020.4$ million marks in comparison with 876.8 millions and 660.9 millions in the two previous years, while the value of exports amounted to 973.3 millions against 846.1 and 785.0 millions respectively in 1934 and 1933. The balance of trade was, therefore, not quite so favourable this year as in the previous years: against a surplus of imports of 47.1 millions there was a smaller one of 30.7 millions last year and a surplus of exports of 124.1 millions in 1933. The increase in imports refers principally to such items as pig-iron, hot rolled and sheet-iron and petrol, as well as machinery, means of transport and textiles. On the other hand exports of meat, butter, cheese, plywood, matches, mechanical pulp, cardboard and paper have grown, while the exports of chemical pulp, for instance, have fallen off.

The state of the timber market remains unchanged. The greater activity that was in many quarters expected to set in after the conclusion of a final agreement with regard to deliveries of Russian timber to Great Britain, has not materialised. This may partly be due to the circumstance that importers were not inclined to make contracts on the eve of the Easter holidays. According to estimates about 300,000 standards had been sold from Finland by the middle of April or approximately onethird of the calculated output.
The position on the mechanical pulp market has grown appreciably worse of late, prices having fallen very much owing to there being considerable unsold stocks. In regard to other markets for the principal Finnish exports there has been no change.

THE LABOUR MARKET.

There was no change worth recording on the labour market during March. The number of unemployed at the end of the month is reported to be 22,200 against 22,600 at the end of February and 39,700 at the end of March, 1934.

The index is calculated by the Central Statistical Office, and is based on the average prices for $1926=100$. The first gronp of indices refers to goods appearing in local wholesale trade in Finland, whereas the indices for imported and exported goods refer to the total quantities of goods imported or exported, including the movement of such goods that are in no way intended for wholesale trade in Finland. An indirect weighting has been applied, by means of which each class of goods is represented by the number of commodities corresponding to the calculated importance of this class in wholesale trade. The averages are arithmetical ones.

2. LAND.

THE AREA is 388,217 square kilometres $=149,900$ square miles (Great Britain's area is $89,047 \mathrm{sq}$. m. and Italy's area 117,982 sq. m.). Of the total area $11.5 \%$ are lakes. On an average $11.8 \%$ of the land in the south of Finland is cultivated, $1.1 \%$ in the North, $6.6 \%$ of the whole land. Of the land area 25.3 mill. ha ( 62.5 mill. acres) or $73.6 \%$ are covered by forests.

THE AVERAGE TEMPERATURE in the coldest month is in S. W. Finland - $5^{\circ}$ to - $6^{\circ} \mathrm{C}$., in Lappland - $15^{\circ}$ C. and during the warmest month $+15^{\circ}$ and $+13^{\circ}$ to $+14^{\circ} \mathrm{C}$. resp. The average temperature in Helsinki (Helsingfors) is $+4.6^{\circ}$ (in Osio $+5.4^{\circ}$, in Montreal $+5.4^{\circ}$, in Moscow $+3.6^{\circ}$ ). The ground is covered by snow in the South for about 100 days, in Central Finland for 150 to 180 days, in Lappland about 210 days.

3. POPULATION.

NUMBER OW INHABITANTS (1933): 3.7 millions (of whom 0.2 million emigrants), Sweden (1933) 6.2, Switzerland (1932) 4.1, Denmark (1932) 3.6 and Norway (1933) 2.9 millions.

DENSITY OF POPULATION (1933): In South-Finland 18.0, in North-Finland 2.6 and in the whole country an average of 10.9 inhabitants to the square kilometre.

5. FINANCE AND BANKING.

CURRENCY. Since 1860 Finland has its own monetary system. From 1877 up to the Great War the currency maintained its stable gold value and after the disturbances caused by the war Finland has again from January 1st, 1926, a gold standard. The unit of currency is the mark (Finnish $*$ markka $)=100$ penniä. According to the monetary law of December 21st, 1925, a gold coin of 100 marks' value shall contain $3^{15} / 18$ grams of fine gold. Since October 12th. 1931, the redemption of bank notes in gold is, however. suspended.

STATE FINANCES. According to the balance sheet for 1934 the State revenue was $4,135.7$ million marks of which $3,366.9$ million marks were current revenue, and State expenditure 4.100.7 million marks, of which $2,599.2$ million marks were current expenditure. The principal sources of revenue were as follows: Statproperty and undertakings (net) 320.3 , direct taxes 485.0 , indirect taxes $1,815.6$, stamp duty 165.7 , charges 94.8 , interest and dividends 184.2 and capital revenue 768.8. The valte of state property in 1922 is estimated at $11,150.6$ million marks. For Public Debt see table 19 in this issue.

MUNICIPAL FINANCES. According to the Budget for 1934 expenditure amounted to $1,429.1$ million marks. Income from taxation was calculated at $\mathbf{4 6 6 . 4}$ million marks, taxed income at 4,978. 4 million marks. The municipal income tax (non-progressive) averaged $9.4 \%$ of the ratepayers' income.

THE BANK OF ISSUE. The Bank of Finland, (founded in 1811) is a State Bank. Its head-office is in Helsinki (Helsingfors) with branches in Turku (Abo), Pori (Björneborg), Vaasa (Vasa). Oulu (Uleaborg), Kuopio, Joensuu, Sortavala, Viipuri (Wiborg). Mikkeli (S:t Michel), Tampere (Tammerfors), Hämeenlinna (Tavastehus), Jyväskylā and Kotka.

THE JOINT STOCK BANKS (1934): Number 9 , possess 474 offices, where all kinds of banking business is transactert. Including all banks, there is one banking establishment per 7,200 inhabitants.

The largest banks are: Kansallis-Osake-Pankki, Ab. Nordiska Föreningsbanken and Helsingfors Aktiebank, all with head offices in the capital.

OTHER BANKS (1984): Mortgage banks 6, Savings banks 481 Co-operative Credit Societies 1,388 and a Central Bank for the latter.

${ }^{1}$ ) From the beginning of 1935 other credit institutions are omitted.

THE FINNISH JOINT STOCK BANKS IN 1934.

BYA. E. TUDEER, PH. D. statistician to the bank of finland.

GENERAL SURVEY.

Having overcome the difficulties of the previous years, banking business in Finland proceeded in general under normal conditions cluring 1934, although some of the Joint Stock banks still had to liquidate losses incurred in former years. The favourable economic progress and the unusually easy state of the money market are clearly reflected in the position of the Joint Stock banks.
At the beginning of $193 \pm$ nine Joint Stock banks carried on ordinary banking business and the same banks continued in business at the end of the year. In addition there were two small banks that had already been forced to decide on liquidation before the year under review had started, their liquidation proceeding in the course of the year. The nine Joint Stock banks that transacted business at the end of the year are enumerated in the table on page 32 in which their own funds, balance sheet totals, and number of offices are stated.

Acoording to the table the number of banking offices was 473 at the end of March this year, 179 being in the towns and 294 in the country. During 1934 two new branches were opened and six were closed. Including the 14 banking offices of the Bank of Finland the number of banking offices is 487, representing an avenage of one banking office to 7,300 inhabitants.

Last year banking, which had fallen off year by year since 1928 , showed a gratifying recovery.

This is seen in the following figures that give the combined totals of the Joint Stock banks" balance sheets at the end of each year:-

Owing to a partial rearrangement of the banking statistics it is impossible to illustrate the total turnover of the Joint Stock banks during the year under review as we have done in former surveys. The next article in this Bulletin explains the new banking statistics and the changes they have necessitated. In some respects, however, figures are given at the same time in accordance with the soheme employed hitherto in the banking statistics. As these figures enable a comparison to be made with the corresponding conditions in the previous years, the following review has been based on them and not on the new scheme.

BALANCE SHEETS OF THE JOINT STOOK BANKS.

The combined balance sheets of the Joint Stook banks at the end of the years 1932-1934 give the following table:-

| Sundry liabilities | 140.9 | 163.5 | 160.5 |
| Total | 9,487.3 | 9,514.8 | 9,877.1 |

The annual profits of the banks are included in this table among "Other funds" and their losses, in those cases in which they occurred, have been deducted from this item. For this reason these balance sheet totals are slightly less than the corresponding amounts in the table on the previous page.

These combined balance sheets of the Joint Stock banks at the end of the years 1932-1934 differ considerably in some respects. We deal with the most important changes below. It should be poin'ted out at once, however, that the great changes in the case of cash credits and home correspondents among the assets and in the case of current accounts and home correspondents among the liabilities are due to formal causes. According to an agreement between the banks a "Oheque account" was introduced at the beginning of 1934, partly with credit and partly without. The former consists of the old cash credits and the greater part of the debits of home correspondents, while the latter consists of the old current accounts and the greater part of the credits of home correspondents. By means of the change in the banking statistics introduced at the beginning of this year this reform has been continued, home correspondents having disappeared altogether from the balance sheets of the banks (see below, page 37).

'THE BANKS' OWN FUNDS.

The course punsued by the funds of the Joint Stock banks will be seen in the following table:-

| Total | 1,537.8 | 1,370.8 | $-109.2$ |  | 67.0 |

The considerable reduction in the funds of the Joint Stock banks is mainily due to the following circumstances. At the beginning of the year Helsingfors Aktiebank set aside 131.3 million marks of its capital and 35.0 millions of its reserve fund for writing off doubtful credits and employed a further 5.9 million marks of its funds for paying dividends. Suomen Maatalous-Osake-Pankki employed 30.0 millions of its capital, 11.8 millions of its reserve fund and 3.9 millions of its profirt distribution fund to cover the lasses booked in the previous year. In addition two small banks set aside several million marks to oover similar losses. On the other hand the increase in the banks' own funds was very slight; only one of the small banks increased its capital by 2.0 millions, while the reserve funds were increased by inconsiderable amounts. The last item alone occupies a special position, as it shows that the combined financial results of the banks for last year were considerably better than for 1933.

IIOME DEPOSTIS.

The movements in the Joint Stock banks' deposit business will be found in the following table:-

| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Current accounts | 756.4 | 1,492.4 | +130.4 | + 736. |
| Home correspondents $\qquad$ | 1,009.3 | 386.2 | + 28.1 | -623. |
| Deposit accounts | 4,894.4 |  | + 135.3) |  |
| Savings accounts | 837.8) |  | + 51.4 |  |
| Total | 7,497.9 | 7,960.3 | + 343.2 | + |

Although the deposit accounts underwent a change, it will be seen from the above table that deposit business as a whole produced a more satisfactory result than for the previous year. Short-term deposits, consisting of the first two items together, increased by 112.9 million marks or slightly less than in 1933, but appreciably more than in previous years. It is of more importance that ordinary deposits, consisting of the last two items, increased by 349.5 million marks in comparison with 184.7 millions in 1933 and appreciable reductions in the two preceding years. This is seen more clearly from the following figures:-

| End of  year. |  | Ordinary  deposits.  Mili, mks. | Increase $(+)$  Mill. mks. | or decrease ( - ). |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |

These figures show to what extent deposit business in the Finnish Joint Stock banks is dependent on trade conditions. Viewed against the background of this table the increase for 1934 clearly proves, how great the financial advance was during the year.

HOME LOANS.

The home loans of the Joint Stock banks are shown in the following table:-

The displacement between the last two items is due to the introduction of the cheque account already referred to, the greater part of the credits of home correspondents having been transferred to it. In spite of this displacement the following conclusions may be drawn from the above table. Business in bills that had gradually decreased to not much more than onethird of its level in 1929, was again reduced last year, but only to a small extent. On the other hand loans increased slightly. It is more important to observe that, in spite of economic progress and increased activity in production, trade, and communications, the credits of the Joint Stock banks did not increase last year, but were slightly reduced, though appreciably less than during the previous years. This reduction of credits is, of course, to some extent connected with the amounts written off bad credits, of which mention has been made.

Owing to deposits in the Joint Stock banks rising and credits falling off, the position of the banks grew increasingly easier in the course of the year. At the beginning of the year the tension between the credits and deposits of the banks was already uncommonly small, viz., only 141.7 million marks compared with $1,063.9$ millions a year before and over 2,000 millions during the worst phase of the financial crisis. The consequence of this development was that the tension became negative in the spring and that at the end of the year deposits exceeded credits by 493.7 million marks. The position of the Finnish Joint Stock banks has never been so easy at any previous date.

Several Joint Stock banks obviousily experienced some difficulty in the course of the year in finding suitable investments. This explains the fact that the banks invested in considerable holdings of bonds. According to the values booked their holdings of bonds increased from 292.5 million marks at the beginning of the year to 687.0 millions at its end.

It should also be mentioned that during the year under review the Joint Stock banks did not apply on a single occasion to the Bank of Finland to re-discount bills and that their cash was unusually large throughout the year.

POSITION TOWARDS FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

The position of the Joint Stock banks towards foreign countries was marked by increased trade and its positive balance. For this reason both the foreign claims and the foreign indebtedness of the banks increased, the former in a higher degree. This development is clearly shown by the following figures:-

| $\begin{array}{c}\text { Innd of } \\ \text { year. }\end{array}$ | $\begin{array}{c}\text { Claims. } \\ \text { Mill, mks. }\end{array}$ |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | \(\left.\begin{array}{c}Indebted-

niess.
Mill. mks.\end{array} $$
\begin{array}{c}\text { Net claims ( }+ \text { ) or } \\ \text { indebtedness }(-) . \\
\text { Mill. mks. }\end{array}
$$\right\}\)

As these figures indicate, the foreign credit balances of the Joint Stock banks have never been as large as at present. At the same time, their foreign indebtedness, in spite of its rise last year, was appreciably less than at the end of 1927-1930. As regards the net position, the net claims of the Joint Stock banks increased by no less than 228.4 million marks and thus reached a level that has not occurred in any previous year. In comparison with the heavy net foreign indebtedness of the banks in 1928 and 1929 the present position is very satisfactory.

THE YEAR'S RESULTS.

The results of the Joint Stock banks for 1934 are seen in the following summary of their income and expenditure. This table, which differs slightly from the corresponding earlier tables on account of the rearrangement of the banking statistics, only includes the nine banks that are still transacting complete banking business:-

| Income. |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | $\begin{gathered} 1933 \\ \text { Mill,mks. } \end{gathered}$ |  | $\begin{gathered} 1934 \\ \text { Mill.mks, } \end{gathered}$ |
| Interest | 231.5 |  | 195.4 |
| Income on bonds and shares | 23.9 |  | 44.1 |
| Agio | 36.7 |  | 28.8 |
| Recovered on claims previously written off .... | 4.0 |  | 4.0 |
| Income from bank premises |  |  | 12.8 |
| Sundry earnings | 21.8 |  | 18.8 |
| Total | 317.9 |  | 297.2 |
| Expenditure. |  |  |  |
| Expenses | 169.5 |  | 160.8 |
| Amounts written off .... | 144.7 |  | 39.9 |
| Transferred to pensions funds | 0.7 |  | 1,9 |
| Losses of mortgage departments | 2.7 |  | 3.2 |
| Annual profits . . . . . . . . 86.9 |  | 95.1 |  |
| ", losses .......... 86.6 | 0.3 | 3.7 | 91.4 |
| Total | 317.9 |  | 297.2 |

On account of the fall in rates of interest and reduced credits the Joint Stook banks' earnings in interest and commission were reduced from 704.8 million marks in 1933 to only 566.0 millions in 1934. The expenditure on interest fell off simultaneously from 473.3 to 370.6 million marks, so that the reduction in the profits in interest amounted to $\mathbf{3 6 . 1}$ million marks. The considerable increase in the income on bonds and shares is a natural sonsequence of the increased holdings of bonds. The total net income of the Joint Stock banks only amounted to 297.2 million marks last year in comparison with 317.9 millions in 1933. Going backward we find an evenly rising series up to 1929, when the net income of the Joint Stock banks was at its highest. This trend is best illustrated by the following figures:-

|  | Net income. Mill, mks. | Percentage of total balance sheet. $\%$ |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 1929 | 498.3 | 4.57 |
| 1930 | 463.1 | 4.39 |
| 1.931 | 431.1 | 4.18 |
| 1932 | 3 35. 1 | 3.73 |
| 1933 | 317.0 | 3.31 |
| 1934 | 297.2 | 3.02 |

The banks' expenses were rather less last year than in the previous year, viz., 160.8 million marks against 169.5 millions. It is, howerer, of greater importance that the banks required to write off appreciably less. If the amounts referred to that some of the banks set aside out of their capital and reserves for writing off doubtful credits, are included, the amounts written off duxing the year come to 210.1 million marks in all, of which 204.5 millions were written off credits.

One of the Joint Stock banks suffered a loss of 3.7 million marks, but all the others earned profits totalling 95.1 million marks against 86.9 millions for 1933. If the combined losses are deducted from the profits, we obtain the following figures that show the total results of the Joint Stock banks' business during the last few years:-

|  |  | Net profits ( + ) or net losses (一). Mill, mks. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 1928 |  | + 206.9 |
| 1929 |  | + 202.7 |
| 1930 |  | + 158.2 |
| 1931 |  | - 73.9 |
| 1932 |  | + 76.0 |
| 1933 |  | + 0.3 |
| 1934 |  | + 91.4 |

Besides the profits for the year, the banks could dispose of 30.0 million marks brought forward from the year before and 3.5 millions transferred from the reserve fund of the bank that suffered a loss. The total of these amounts, 128.6 million maxks, was allocated as fol-lows:-

|  | $\begin{gathered} 1932 \\ \text { Mill. mks, } \end{gathered}$ | $\stackrel{1933}{\text { M11. } \mathrm{mks} .}$ | $\begin{gathered} 1934 \\ \text { Mill. mks. } \end{gathered}$ |

| Various public purposes | 0.4 | 0.0 |  |
| Gratuities | 0.3 |  |  |

The dividends paid during the last few years are shown in the following table, only those banks that still carry on business being taken into account:-

CONOLUSION.

As the above description indicates, the position of the Joint Stock banks was unusually liquid during the year under review and particularly towards its end. This liquidity has, however, been attained partly at the cost of profitableness, which has been reduced by the decrease in credits, the falling rates of interest and the reduction of the margin of interest. These circumstances have given rise to difficulties in the case of the small banks that have little opportunity of reducing their expenditure. The position of the larger banks is more favourable; they are also better able to secure new spheres of enterprise and thereby, too, a larger income.

Some of the Joint Stock banks have several branch offices in the capital and a few other towns; only such branch offices are included, where banking business of every description is transacted.

BANKING PLACES.

Abstract

In drawing up this list only such branch offices have been included, where banking business of every description is transacted, The numbers inserted after the names correspond to those used in the list of banks and thus show which banks have offices at the reapective places. # REARRANGMENT OF THE STATISTICS OF THE FINNISH JOINT STOCK BANKS IN 1934.

BYEERO AAKU, в. сом. sc.BANK INSPECTOR.

HISTORICAL SURVEY.

Since the establishment of the first Joint Stock bank in 1862 the Finnish Joint Stock banks have published their monthly statements in the Official Gazette and in the daily newspapers. The actual business statistics of the Joint Stook banks for former years appeared in the quinquennial reports on the economic position of the country published by the Central Statistical Office and in the Statistical Year Book of Finland. In 1891 the Government approved of a form, in which the official controllers of the Joint Stock banks had to supply monthly reports to the Ministry of Finance on the position of their banks at the end of the previous month. On the basis of these reports a summary of all the Joint Stock banks was compiled by the Ministry and was subsequently publisked regularly as a supplement to the Official Gazette.

The first regulations regarding banking statistics were issued in 1909. According to these monthly statements of the Joint Stock banks' accounts and special particulars of doubtful credits were to be published, as well as fairly extensive annual statistics, to which a review of the economic development of the country and of the business of the banks during the year under review was to be appended. The statistics were published first by the Ministry of Finance, later by the Central Statistical Office and since 1923 by the Bank Inspectorate, to whom the publication of the banking statistics is still entrusted. These statistics contained 58 headings, while there were 97 headings in the statistical statements supplied by the official controllers of the banks. In the annual statistics there were 255 headings divided into 14 tables. In planning the banking statistics special attention was paid to preserving complete continuity and uniformity between the reports of the official controllers of banks and the banking statistios. However, adherence to this principle, possibly in too slavish a manner, resulted in the statistics becoming unclear in some important points. For instance, in the balance sheets no separate group of headings was provided for accounts referring to other credit institutions, and in the profit and loss account commission on guarantees granted on behalf of others and on collections were included among the interest and commission earned on credits. The instructions given for filling in the enquiry forms were also far too general in view of the extensiveness of the statistics. In practice the statistics required more work and were less continuous and suitable for a general survey of the money and capital market than could have been desired. When the new Bank Law was issued in 1933, immediate steps were taken to rearrange the banking statistics and on March 22nd, 1934, the Government issued fresh instructions regarding the statistics of Joint Stock banks.

The new banking statistics are about oue-third fewer in number; the monthly statistics only contain 35 headings and the annual statistics about 177 headings. As the main difference between the monthly and the annual statistics is that the former contain headings for income and expenditure that need. of course, not be taken into account in the balance sheet table, we confine ourselves to giving a detailed description of the annual statistios.

FOREIGN OLATMS AND INDEBTEDNESS.

The foreign claims and foreign indebtedness (table 9 in this Bulletin) are entered in the balance sheets under the headings "Foreign correspondents" and "Fworeign bills". The latter heading refers to foreign bills both in foreign currency and in Finnish currency. "Foreign correspondents", on the other hand, are divided into two oategories, claims and indebtedness in foreign currency being entered under the "Nostro" heading, and foreign claims and indebtedness in Finnish currency under the "Loro" heading. The turnover of the accounts of both foreign correspondents and foreign bills are also given in a special table.

OREDITS AND DEPOSITS.

Credits to the public and deposits from the public (tables 7 and 8 in this Bulletin) are combined in the new banking statistics under the headings "Inland bills", "Loans", "Cheque accounts", and "Deposits". As this loan business forms the centre of gravity in the business of our Joint Stock banks (at the end of 1934 the proportions of these headings represented 73.7 per cent of the assets and 70.2 per cent of the liabilities of the total balance sheets) the new banking statistics endeavour to illustrate it from as many aspects as possible. By means of the annual statistics it is possible to see, besides the extent of the main categories of credits and deposits at the end of the year and their turnover, the number of inland bills, loans, overdrafts, cheque accounts, and deposits at the end of the year; the number of credits granted and liquidated in the course of the year; the grouping of sanctioned cheque credits and loans according to the nature of the securities on the last day of December; the rates of interest in force during the year; and the Joint Stock banks' total amounts of credits and deposits outstanding at the end of the year grouped according to different rates of interest. For illustrating credits and deposits 66 headings are provided in the annual statistics.

FINNISH OREDIT INSTITUTIONS.

Among the changes made in the banking statistics at the end of last year the most important was the separation of the accounts referring to Finnish credit institutions into a separate group of headings. In the balance sheet table there are different headings for balances due from Finnish credit institutions and for indebtedness for fixed periods or at sight to Finnish credit institutions. In addition there is a note showing, how much of this indebtedness consisted of rediscounted bills. The table showing the turnover of the most important accounts contains headings for the total annual turnover of the accounts referring to credit institutions. As the introduction of these new headings breaks the continuity between the new and the old banking statistios, it is appropriate in this connection to state the transfers made by the Joint Stock banks on the last day of December, when they changed over to the new arrangement of the statistics.

Transferred to balances due from Finnish credit institutions:-

"OTHER ASSETS" AND "OTHER LIABILITIES".

Another point in which the continuity between the new and the old banking statistics was interrupted, was the introduction of the headings "Other assets" and "Other liabilities". The differences in this respect are given below.

NEW BALLANCE SHEET.

Owing to the transfers mentioned the balance sheet of the Joint Stock banks was made up as follows on December 31st, 1934, in the new banking statistics (banks in course of liquidation are not included):-

BALANCE SHEET OF THE JOINT STOCK BANKS
ON DECEMBER 31ST, 1934.

PROFIT AND LOSS ACCOUNT.

Only slight changes were made in the table referring to profit and loss accounts. The commission charged on bank guarantees and collections, formerly included in the interest and commission earned on credits granted, is entered in the new banking statistics under "Other income". The earnings from interest and commission on lending business are therefore considered according to the new regulations only to be the interest and commission earned on credits granted to the public, on balances due from Finnish credit institutions, and on foreign bills and other claims in Finnish currency. For the income obtained from bank buildings a special heading was provided in the new banking statistics. The income from bank buildings refers to net income, including estimated rent for the premises used by the banks themselves. Interest, dividends and profits on exchange received on bonds and shares are inoluded under one heading. Net income from foreign notes and bills, credit balances, and indebtedness in foreign currency is regarded as agio. Among the expenditure additional transfers made to pensions funds are kept separate from other expenditure under a special heading. Interest on pensions funds, however, is still entered in the interest accounts. The former division of expenses into three categories of salaries, taxes, and other expenses has been retained. The amounts written off are specified separately as written off credits granted, bank premises, other real estate, furniture, and bonds and shares together.

OTHER CHANGES.

In the new banking statistics special headings are provided for the number of bank-postbills outstanding at the beginning and end of the year and the number of bank-post-bills sold and paid during the year. Further there is a heading for amounts encashed debited to customers during the year.
In rearranging the banking statistics special attention was paid to securing uniformity in the statistical information obtained from the different banks. Very detailed instructions were given to the banks for filling in the enquiry forms, so that it is hoped that the banking statistics will be far more uniform than formerly. In practice it has also been arranged that all the Joint Stock banks now use the same terms and adopt the same principles in publishing their statements in the daily and other papers as in supplying information for the official banking statistics.

ITEMS.

The finance accounts for 1934. The finance accounts of the State are now complete. They show considerable increases in both revenue and expenditure. The results are seen in the following table which gives the figures for 1932-1934:-

| 1934.- | 1934 | 1933 | 1932 |

| Expenditure: |  |  |  |
| Current expenditure | 2,599.2 | 2,543.6 | 2,484.6 |
| Amortisation | 394.2 | 68.9 | 58.2 |
| Other capital expenditure ............... | 1,107.3 | 634.7 | 458.9 |
| Total | 4,100.7 | 3,247.2 | 3,001.7 |
| Surplus | 35.0 | 53.3 |  |
| Grand total | 4,135.7 | 3,300.5 | 3,001.7 |

In the next issue of the Bulletin we will give further particulars of the State finances. At present we need only mention that the large increase in "Other capital expenditure" is partly due to considerable transfers to State funds.

The Public Debt. In March the Public Debt of Finland again experienced considerable changes on acoount of conversions being carried out. These changes are seen in the following table:-

|  | $\begin{aligned} & \text { March } 30, \\ & \text { 1935 } \\ & \text { Mill. mks. } \end{aligned}$ |  | $\begin{gathered} \text { Dec. } 31, \\ \text { Mill, mks. } \end{gathered}$ | $\begin{gathered} \text { Dec. 31, } \\ 1933 \\ \text { Mill, mks. } \end{gathered}$ |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Funded debt: |  |  |  |  |
| Foreign | 1,938.3 | 2,2352.4 | 2,282.6 | 2,384.0 |
| Internal | 1,144.1 | 1,141.1 | 990.7 | 716.0 |
| Floating debt: |  |  |  |  |
| Foreign | 59.0 | 59.0 | 59.0 | 358.9 |
| Internal | 60.9 | 55.7 | 49.5 | 48.8 |
| Total | 3,199.3 | 3,4818.2 | 3,381.8 | 3,507.7 |

The foreign debt was reduced in March by close on 300 million marks in consequence of the redemption of the 7 per cent dollar loan of 1925. By this means the total Public Debt was also reduced. A comparison with the position at the end of 1933 is instructive. Since then the foreign floating debt has decreased to a fraction of its former amount and the funded foreign debt by 445.7 million marks, while the funded internal debt has increased by 425.1 million marks. At the former date 78 per cent of the Public Debt consisted of foreign debt, but at present this proportion has decreased to 62 per cent.

The conversion schemes include an internal loan that was issued in April in the home market. The loan is in the form of premium bonds and amounts to 100 million marks. Each bond is for 200 marks and the actual interest is estimated at $4 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent for the $\operatorname{State}$.

Central co-operative organisations in Finland during 1934. The improvement in economic conditions in Finland that could be observed during 1934 is also reflected in the business of the central co-operative organisations. Their total turnover in 1934 and the two previous years was as follows:-

|  | 1934 | 1933 | 1932 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Mill. | MiIII. mks. | Mill. |
| Finnish Co-operative Wholesale |  |  |  |
| Co-operative Wholesale As- sociation (O.T.K.) ....... | 684.4 | 605.0 | 575.4 |
| Central Co-operative Butter Export Association ''Valio'" . . | 505.8 | 49.8 .8 | 512.4 |
| ''Hankkija"' Central Agricultural Supply Co-operative |  |  |  |
| Society ................... | 239.7 | 213.1 | 176.6 |

All the central organisations had larger sales last year than in 1933; all except "Valio" were able to record a considerably increased turnover compared with 1932. The combined sales amounted to,- 413.7 million marks compared with $2,231.5$ millions in 1933 and $2,109.1$ millions in 1932. However, none of the central organisations attained such a large turnover as in 1928 and 1929.

The financial results were in general good and better than in the preceding years. This is shown by the following figures:-

|  | Net profits. |  |  | Own funds after disposing of annual profits. |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | $\begin{gathered} 1934 \\ \text { Mill, mks } \end{gathered}$ | $193$ | $\underset{\text { Mill mks }}{1932}$ | Mill 1934 |  |
| S.O.K. | 20.2 | 17.1 | 15.2 | 162.6 | 153.8 |
| O.T.K. | 14.2 | 10.9 | 10.7 | 122.8 | 112.4 |
| Valio | 3.7 | 3.7 | 3.3 | 35.1 | 32.\% |
| Hankkija | 3.5 | 2.9 | 2.6 | 39.7 | 37.5 |

As usual a large part of the annual profits was transferred to the reserve and other funds, the total of which was thereby increased by 23.8 million marks to 360.2 millions.

Prospecting for gold in Lapland. In former times gold washing was done very persistently in the rivers in Finnish Lapland, although the results were rather meagre. In 1925 a company was formed for washing gold on a larger scale by means of up-to-date technical equipment. The attempt was unsuccessful and the company failed. Interest in the possibility of gold deposits in Lapland seems to have reawakened at present: several expeditions, organised by two companies, are to carry out investigations and prospect for the desired metal next summer with the help of expert scientists.
