The National City Bank of New York.

Bank of New York

New York, January 8, 1918.

Dear Sir:

Herewith we beg to hand you fac-simile signatures of those authorized to sign on behalf of this Bank and its Branches.

All our Checks, Drafts, Letters of Credit and Circular Notes payable in foreign countries and all foreign correspondence involving payments transfers of funds and deliveries of securities, must bear fac-simile natures, but no fac-simile signatures are required.

Signatures for the Home Office, or as Signatories, or Sub-

Signatories for the Branches, will sign concurrently.

Ordinary correspondence, advice of Drafts drawn,

instruments on Checks, Drafts and Bills of Exchange deposited for the credit of the Home Office or any Branch require but one signature.

The authorized signatures of the Home Office may also be accepted on behalf of any Branch, and the authorized signatures for any one Branch may be accepted in the same capacity for any other Branch.

This applies to all previous authorizations.

Yours respectfully,

The National City Bank of New York.

[Signature]

President
